REDLINE UNLIMITED

“As a Multi-Channel retailer it is very important to us that we are ahead of the competition when promoting our products across Europe and Asia. Language barriers and local dialect can bring various problems in translation and it was a daunting prospect moving into foreign markets with our products, especially with specialised inventory. Fortunately we were in good hands with E-Motive who provided us with an excellent translation service which in turn enabled us to grow our business and expand into new markets that otherwise would have been off-limits to us. Redline highly recommend the specialist service which E-Motive provide in order to promote your business across the globe, their dedicated team are a pleasure to deal with.”
